The Odd Fellows of this city have committees at arranging for the observance of the eighty-third anniversary of the order next month.

Tuesday evening the daughters of Rebekah served refreshments and had a

There is little besides the comings and goings of different ones to chronicle for the past week. Society at large has enjoyed a week of perfect rest, as the entertainments that were given were limited to a few. Lent has drawn to its closing week, and society, apparently fearing that its absence heretofore has not been carried far enough, is now doubly determined to shun sinful ways. Today ushers in Holy week, and from now on nothing will be heard but the deep tones of church bells until Easter morn, when society will burst the bonds imposed by Lent and once more start the social wheel revolving.

Engagements Announced.

Mr. V. F. Colton formally announced the engagement of his daughter, Clara Beaumont, to Dr. Union Worthington. Mrs. Mary Weber announces the engagement of her daughter, Belle, to Ernest A. Lambourn. The engagement is announced of Miss Clara Lawson and Joseph G. Sawyer. The young couple are both prominent socially, and the announcement will be read with pleasure by their friends. The marriage will occur in June. Another engagement that was announced yesterday was that of Miss Elva Godbe and Patrick Sheehan. The marriage will take place April 17 and the happy couple will make a tour of the southern states before returning to this city to reside.

Afternoon Tea.
